03 / PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

A garden hose is useful until it's lying in a heap across the lawn. This wall-mounted retractable garden hose reel gives your hose a proper home, so it's out of the way when you're not using it and easy to find when you are.

Because it mounts on the wall, your hose stays off the ground instead of sprawling across the path or the grass. And because it's retractable, tidying up takes less effort. When you finish watering, the hose retracts rather than needing to be wound by hand.

The result is a tidier yard and less time spent untangling and coiling. That means more time for the things you actually want to do outside, whether you're watering plants, tending the garden, or simply keeping the space around your home neat.

It's a simple, practical product with a clear job: keep your garden hose organized and within reach. If you're tired of tripping over a loose hose, this is an easy upgrade for your outdoor space.
